Dininny, in an opinion submitted to the council two months ago, said that the Bell company has no franchise at present, as the transfer of the original franchise granted to William Lenning and others to the present considerable property and the recommendation conscienced in the council property at the present considerable property at the pre Jenning and others to the present con-cern has never been ratified by the council. If the ordinance introduced by Fern-storm passes, the transfer will be rati-fied and the Bell company will have a definite status until 1933, when its corporate existence expires.

Opposition to the franchise is expected to develop, and Councilman Stewart proposes that the underground wire franchise of the Beli people be amended to require the company to pay the 1 per cent in lieu of the license tax. This franchise was granted in 1894 and only gives the company the right to build conduits for its wires. It is argued that if it should be amended as proposed it would not affect any right of the council to regulate the company in other ways.

Both propositions were referred to the municipal laws committee for consideration.

Early last year, Fisher Harris, secretary of the club, submitted a proposition for the gathering of a fund for the advertisement of Salt Lake which may be used in connection with the task of collecting the money needed for the G. A. R. encampment. Mr. Harris suggested that a number of citizens be asked to pledge themselves to subscribe from $1 to $10 a month to the advertising fund. The matthemselves to subscribe from $1 to $10 a month to the advertising fund. The matter was not taken up at the time it was proposed, because the Commercial club had other things to engross its time.

Getting drunk on Sunday is unpardonable in the eyes of Judge Dichl. Fourteen men were before him on that charge Monday afternoon and were in every case fined $5. During the past year the idea has been repeatedly advanced, and the Commercial club was preparing to take steps toward out the proposition when their next encampment in Salt Lake. As this will require the raising of a large fund with which to defray the expense of entertaining the old soldiers, all thought of asking for subscriptions to the adver-tising fund was abandoned. The board of governors may at today's meeting use the idea of small monthly subscriptions from a number of persons in connection with the raising of the G.

A. R. fund.

Fisher Harris, secretary of the Commercial club, said last night that any efforts to raise money from the citizens of Salt Lake by a subscription at present would embarrass those who will have charge of the work of raising the G. A. R.

It has been suggested that the Commercial club, in raising the $60,000, adopt mercial club, in raising the $00,000, adopt the plan which was successfully used in Minneapolis when it was necessary to raise a large fund. Each business man was assessed according to his known financial standing. The idea was successful, and the letters received the first day after notices of the assessments were sent out contained checks for more than $20,000.

COMMITTEE APPROVES COMMERCIAL CLUB PLANS

At a meeting of the Commercial club committee on building yesterday afternoon it was decided to recommend that the board of governors approve the plans for the exterior of the club's new $200,000 home which were submitted by the architects. The plans are for a five-story building, which will be entirely different from the structure originally proposed.

The board of governors will meet this afternoon.

Nature has a remedy for catarrh, a treatment that is far better than dosing the stomach with medicine and drugs. here since January.

McKenzie appeared before the council to ask leniency. He made a straightforward talk, in which he took the chief of police to task for not ridding the city of the undesirable element which frequents his place. Speaking of the liking of his race for a crap game, McKenzle said:

"Craps is a part of a colored man's religion. If you should put one in the place of President Davis now it is a safe bet that he would be starting a game in five minutes."

"I think the police should rid the city," he cortinued, "of the undesirable element among the colored people. I cannot help it because one crazed fellow shoots another in my place. It was not my fault, but it is the fault of the chief of police, who allows this class of dope fiends to remain in the city. You make the better element of the colored people suffer for the acts of the worst element. I have reported this class to the chief several times, but he has never taken any action to get rid of them. When I go to his office I am treated like a dog. He calls office I am treated like a dog. He calls me a 'nigger,' instead of a colored man, and I resent such treatment. I am a man and want decent treatment from all men. Last year nearly one-third of the freshman class was composed of high school graduates and it is probable that as large a percentage of last year's graduating class from the high school will enter the university this year.
